you are as well! Always been proud to say that I am a Correctional Nurse – I hope that but always very important to our patients. The impact we make is far-profession of Correctional Nursing is unique and sometimes challenging, hope that you will find our sites interesting and educational. Our

In closing, I appreciate you taking the time to read this newsletter, and I

This month at Health

Our 50% off featured class this month is and other specialized events.

The American Correctional Association is holding its Hybrid is finally available!! It can be found on

The Correctional Nursing: Scope and Standards of Practice

Newsworthy Notes

Holiday Season!

I wish you and all those surrounding you a safe and happy positive and kind. You never Think of all the individuals positively impacted by that one only parents of younger children in age from infants and younger children to teenagers and had chosen his jail.

seeing the program in action, he was so pleased that we proposing a parenting program for detainees, he said yes saw hugs and tears (some of them mine!), and infants, born during their incarceration, for the first time.

Those parents were the only parents of younger children in some cases, be the parent they never had been in the

had been to her.

that his adult daughter refused to come to the ceremony, what it meant to be a parent got was an understanding of what it meant to be a parent signed up for it.

the podium and share something about the program –

That first graduation day, each participant had to stand at celebration was a very big deal!

graduate, have refreshments and spend time together.

graduation ceremony.

and some participants were released unexpectedly, but for them very uncomfortable.

honest assessment of past behaviors, which made many of Mental Health professional who conducted the program classes, successful completion of weekly homework organizing years ago called "Parents - Inside and Out."

This time of year reminds me of a program I was involved in outside our walls) if someone is thinking of suicide.

your patients, and never be afraid to ask (anyone - inside or

As holiday-time approaches, please remember that we

Unsubscribe,

View in browser.

You received this email because you signed

CONTACT US

Unsubscribe

View in browser.

You received this email because you signed

CONTACT US

Unsubscribe

View in browser.

You received this email because you signed